

“Where's Your Father?” by Kirk Hunt

¶ And when Jesus departed thence, two blind men followed him, crying, and saying, Thou Son of David, have mercy on us.

Matthew 9:27 KJV

My brothers and I all have “Where's your Father?” stories. The details are different, but the plot remains the same. Despite our own credentials, in spite of our own accomplishments, men and women looked us in the eye and asked, “Where's Poppa Hunt?”

It took a while, but we all individually figured it out. It was not that the sons of William lacked skills, accomplishments or credentials. Poppa simply commanded a lot of respect. We all learned to live in the shadow of his influence.

As Poppa's Hunt's sons, we have all completed tasks Poppa could not. Yet, when folks saw them done, they asked, “When did he teach you that?”

The blind men of verse 27 wanted their vision restored. They appealed to Jesus at the top of their lungs. Jesus, the son of David. After all, only a true son of David, a son of Father-God, could heal blindness.

The restoration of sight flowed from Jesus' hands, but the credit went to Jesus' Father. The power flowed from Father-God. “Look at what God has done!”

As you build God's Kingdom, men and women will look you in the eye and ask “Where's your Father?” Father-God simply commands a lot of respect. “Look at what God has done!”

Think: Find your source in your Father's power.

Pray: “Father-God, help me to live as Your son.”
