

“Your Deal Is Your Deal” By Kirk Hunt

Jesus said to him, “If I will that he remain till I come, what is that to you? You follow Me.”

John 21:22 NKJV

Peter, and the other disciples, are finally reunited with the risen Christ. Despite Peter’s failures the night of the trial, Jesus gives His man the charge, “Feed My sheep.” In the middle of this personal, powerful and poignant moment, Peter stops and asks a question (v21). “What is John’s deal?” (Insert facepalm here.)

The calling and life you live for Christ is unique and individual. What you have been tasked with is matched to you by Heaven. Your deal is unique, individual and exclusive to the only soul with your fingerprint.

Here is the tough part: Do not compare. Jimmy’s assignment is just as unique as yours. Janey’s calling is hers alone.

We can support and cheer each other. Still, where they go and what they do for the Kingdom is theirs alone. Just like you.

Of course, someone has to minister to lost souls on the beaches of Nice, Honolulu or Nassau. If that is you, I will pray for your good success for the Kingdom. If that is not your assignment, be faithful where you are. And I am praying for your good success for the Kingdom.

Fulfill what God has given you, where you are sent. What your brothers and sisters do is between them and God. You follow Jesus.

Think: God has given me a unique assignment for building His Kingdom.

Pray: “Lord, help me to know my unique calling, and allow others theirs.”

Copyright © January 2014, Kirk Hunt

This devotional is a ministry of <http://devotionals.cadremenpress.com>.