

“An Angel Named Perseverance” By Kirk Hunt

Indeed we count them blessed who endure. You have heard of the perseverance of Job and seen the end intended by the Lord—that the Lord is very compassionate and merciful.

James 5:11 NKJV

Perseverance is not one of the beautiful angels. There are no hidden secrets. There are no mysterious procedures. It is the simple act of staying at your tasks until the end.

Most Christians do not associate perseverance with skill or power. It is one of the fruits of the Spirit and very often, it is the difference between success and failure. Perseverance has great value in the secular world, and in the things of God. Perseverance carries and preserves us until His answers come.

Perseverance is a sibling to endurance and a cousin to patience. It is the link between hope and prayer. All champions have, or get, perseverance. That is because all champions eventually run out of fancy moves and clever strategies. All that remains then is refusing to give up until you get victory.

Perseverance does have a formula: Take the hits. Get up, if needed. Continue serving God. Repeat until you arrive in His Kingdom.

There is no magic or mystery in perseverance. Just a willingness to continue until victory comes. You do want victory, right?

Think: Perseverance may not be flashy but it is critical.

Pray: “Lord, help me have endurance until my change and answers come from You.

Copyright © September 2014, Kirk Hunt

This devotional is a ministry of <http://devotionals.cadremenpress.com>.